

Mine to Mill Blasting to Maximize the Profitability of Mineral Industry Operations

Sarma S Kanchibotla

Julius Kruttschnitt Mineral Research Centre
The University of Queensland, Australia.

ABSTRACT

In mineral industry operations the insitu ore ~~and waste~~ much value ~~is lost~~ (waste) is converted in to the final product and how into two groups as mining and milling, and optimised independently without considering the impact of one over the other. This paper investigates the impact of mining operations (especially blasting;) on downstream processes and demonstrates the potential benefits of the "Mine