

DRILLING AND COST ANALYSIS USING A PERSONAL COMPUTER AND SPREADSHEET

William D. Hissem
Applications Engineer
Tamrock, Inc. - Trackdrills Division
Dallas, Texas

ABSTRACT

The purpose of this paper is to advise people about the methods, use, and possible applications of current "personal computer" hardware and software with regard to the economic cost analysis of percussion drilling equipment.

The material intent and orientation of this paper is toward those people who have just begun "PC" (personal computer) operations, and (or) those who are considering their use.